TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Being a computer science teacher at Indian school Salalah with nine years of experience in dealing with senior secondary students, I am delighted to write this recommendation letter for Master Neamur Rabbi. Having taught him in 11th and 12th grade, I would consider him one of my favorite students so far.

A very likable and humorous character who brings the class to life with his silly jokes now and then. Always ready to strike up a conversation and bring a smile on your face. An attentive listener with a strong work ethic Neamur has been an active participant in many school activities and is a keen and observant learner. He displayed leadership qualities and was an active member in group discussions taking it upon himself to explain topics and problems his peers had trouble understanding. He also has near-perfect scores in Computer Science.

He showcased his ability to quickly acquire skills when he took part in the inter-school code-wars competition and had to learn MySQL and MySQL-python connectivity on the fly since it hadn't been taught in school yet, while working on the project to make a fully functioning parking lot system, simultaneously having to document and make presentation for the project within the time span of 7 days. This project also demonstrated his exceptional presentation skills with easy-to-understand slides, graphs and test demos.

He demonstrated his exceptional grasp of encryption in cybersecurity through development of a functional password manager in Python and MySQL, incorporating AES256 encryption while using Docker to package the final application. He possesses a keen understanding of algorithms and data structures, enabling him to develop efficient and effective solutions. This school project not only highlighted his broad knowledge of modern development tools but also showcased his outstanding leadership qualities and soft skills as he managed and collaborated with his teammates to test and fix bugs.

Apart from this, I still remember the presentations he has demonstrated for the IT Club. Last year, he did a presentation advocating why everyone should consider Linux as an alternate option in Operating systems as it is OpenSource, often uses less system resources than its competition due to the exclusion of bloatware's and how it is more privacy respecting. The year prior, He showcased an impressive concept website for the school using HTML, CSS and JavaScript which looked very clean and modern.

In essence, Neamur is a gem waiting to be polished by the esteemed faculty of your university. His dedication and passion for programming are truly impressive, and he has shown a remarkable ability to apply his knowledge to real-world problems. With his exceptional abilities and unwavering dedication, he is poised to shine brightly under your guidance. I highly recommend Master Neamur Rabbi for admission to your undergraduate program at your prestigious University.

Mr. Nandakumar
PGT, Computer Science

Letter of Recommendation

Being Neamur's physics teacher in his grades XI and XII, I have had the ample opportunity to observe him from close quarters. What always strikes me about Neamur is his uncanny knack to be up to date; whether it be the topic we cover or the assignment that is given, he is sure to be faultless.

His boldness to stand up and ask questions, even seemingly simple ones, till the concept becomes clear, has in fact, been a boon to others who are not as tenacious as he and a motivation for the teachers to go to classes well prepared.

He has shown his scientific temperament, creativity, leadership quality and empathy towards others during the period of completion of project work assigned to him at the end of academic year. He lead his team in all aspects and made a wonderful telescope using which one can observe the moon.

He is punctual, head-strong, hardworking and polite. He can strike up a pleasant conversation with his classmates, but he is careful enough not to hurt the ego of others. He is studious and focuses towards acquiring a deep sense of understanding concepts and inclined on developing analytical skills, on the topics he is interested in. I feel sure, Mast. MD Neamur Rabbi, would be an asset to any institution he wants to join.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

It is my pleasure to write this letter recommending Master MD NEAMUR RABBI for your consideration for higher studies and future endeavor in any discipline.

Neamur was a student in my Social Science class from grade IX and X between April 2019 and March 2021. During this period, he distinguished himself as an excellent student in the class and exhibited a very good rapport with everyone. He did well in his examinations and shown confidence in discussions related with the subject. He used to ask thoughtful questions that revealed a considerable depth of analysis and understanding. He has shown more interest in History, Political Science, Geography, Business and Science related matters.

Moreover, Neamur was actively involved in the school Eco Club and its activities. He was a role model among his peers and lives an eco-friendly life in many aspects. He took part in the school Environmental campaigns, Beach cleanup activities, School campus tree sapling programmes and World Environment and Oman Environment Day celebrations.

Neamur possesses leadership qualities and vision for Environmental campaigns everywhere in the planet.

I wish him good luck and better opportunities.

STUDY PLAN

Dear Sir/Ma'am,

I, Md Neamur Rabbi am writing this letter to explain my study plan for the coming four years of my undergraduate degree in Computing science with minor in Physics at the University of Alberta. My tuition fee per year will be CAD 35,868.4 (including fees). Additionally, I have also secured two scholarships from the University of Alberta worth CAD 8000. I have graduated from high school in Oman with a science background from Indian School Salalah. I have achieved the second place in my computer science batch with a score of 98/100.

In grade 10th I fell in love with physics during the same time I was also teaching myself how to code, and so after my finals when I realized I could study both at the same time and have a future where both the fields were going to be in my job as a quantum computing researcher, I knew that University of Alberta was the right choice for me as no other university that I have received an offer letter from has an option to study both during undergrad. The reason that it is important for me to have the option to take courses from both the fields is important because most universities that offer quantum computing, requires physics and computing courses in bachelors as a requirement to apply for M.Sc.

I believe university of Alberta will be the right choice for me as it strikes the right balance between being one of the top universities to study computer science in and relatively affordable to schools of similar ranking. The university of Alberta ranks the 3rds in Machine Learning and AI in Canada and 54th in the world. Thus, in choosing Alberta I know that I will be in good hands when it comes to studying computer science. Additionally, the $23 million provincial investment towards quantum technologies include funding the research of Quantum computing at the UoA, and so I know that the physics courses, professors at UoA will also be of high standard.

The resources, facilities and faculty available at UoA far exceeds what the universities in Oman and Bangladesh can provide thus I believe that getting a degree from UoA, I will be better knowledged and equipped to come back and work towards pushing the frontiers of academia in Dhaka University. Because a north American degree is viewed with high regard in Bangladesh, it will give me the credibility and a huge sway in working towards introducing quantum computing as a course at the university. Moreover, I can push for government funding towards research in the quantum computing field. I believe the next frontier is the quantum computing just like chip revolution of the 90s and how that pushed few countries at the top, I envision my country Bangladesh as one of the frontiers in quantum technologies.

My parents and siblings are temporary residents in Oman, where my siblings are studying at Indian School Salalah. As a result, I will be returning to Oman after completing my studies at UoA. There I plan to work for a short period to generate funds that will support my Master's degree program. After obtaining my Masters in Quantum Computing, I envision relocating to Bangladesh and joining any one of the top universities as a quantum computing professor.

I hope I was able to explain my study plan to you in this letter. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Md Neamur Rabbi
